

So YOU want to be in a place of calm, confident, knowledgeable, skilled investing thinking and behaviour so you can have the trading future that IS your potential

In simple terms, ShareIQ is what makes the difference between those who can make claim to moving towards the best trader they can be versus those who don't.

The aim of this programme is to give you the tools to propel yourself towards this goal in an interactive, committed and passionate learning environment.

So what is ShareIQ?

Having drawn from knowledge and experience in the fields of psychology, decision-making and education and of course that of investing in share market products and the experiences of working for in excess of 2500 hours in a coaching capacity, your ability to optimise you trading is based on 4 key foundation skills AND 4 ShareIQ intelligences.

Each of these intelligences comprise 4 levels which investors MUST work through to achieve their optimum chance of achieving the results they desire.

Your 2 day programme will obviously not just explore these in principle but involves an intensive workshop approach designed so you WILL walk away with many of these levels attained as we use the power of leverage within the group and a dynamic approach to transferring knowledge into practical working tools that YOU can use immediately.

Here are SOME of the things you will walk away from this programme with:

- Systems to enhance trading performance through critical thinking (the Science of trading)
- System to enhance trading performance through creative thinking (the Art of trading)
- Clarity in when you should AND shouldn't use intuition in trading
- Recognise the changing 'weighting' of economic and company factors on the influence on the market as a whole and specific share price and have a process to integrate this into your trading decision making
- Choose the appropriate strategy for you as an individual and prevailing market conditions and systemise the criteria you will use for changing strategies in a timely manner
- Recognises and acts on the potential for/actual imminent market sentiment change whilst in a trade
- Has a written research system to efficiently take a trading idea to an actual trade
- Balance trading with other life activities through use of comprehensive weekly and daily trading activity system
- Identify how you can identify your learning needs and plan a trading self-development programme
- How to choose and best use the trading resources at your disposal to optimise and anchor learning
- Explores processes to identify and modify existing trading beliefs
- Develops and regularly formally reviews realistic expectation of trading potential based on results, prevailing market conditions and individual circumstances
- Develop a Journal that includes more complex ideas and examination of intra-trade management and general perceptions of personal development
- Process provide quality comprehensive reflection using information from trading journal contributing to growth as a trader
- Has systems and formal plans to manage sudden individual events e.g. Illness, and market events e.g. rights issues, stock splits and IPOs
- Develop trading business and learning plans

AND MUCH MORE!!!

Recognising that sometimes it is different to turn knowledge into action..this workshop IS all about action..we WILL be developing these written systems throughout the event

Additionally you will get:

- A CD with all the templates and systems for you to adapt to your individual circumstances
- A guarantee that if we don't cover the material we will put on another session without additional investment

We are splitting the days to give you a chance to give you the best chance to integrate what we cover into the REALITY of your trading.

We have run a webinar version of this course already but because:

- It is the first time we have run it in this format*
- As many attendees will be existing or previous Horizon clients*

Your investment in this is ONLY an incredible $399 ...

(Be aware the price will be $799 for future courses as we take this out to the broader market)

This programme is suitable ONLY for those who are prepared to commit to a better trading future and are serious about creating the choices the ALL of you are capable of creating through successful investing.

Book your place NOW at

<http://www.horizonprofessional.com.au/shareiqcourse.html>

One last thing...

- Trading intelligence is much more than knowledge
- Good trading is much more than managing your emotions
- Optimum decision making is much more than just having a trading plan
- Sustained trading success is based on much more than having a positive set of beliefs about you as a trader

You NEED it ALL

Surely this is the sort of learning and support you deserve to take your next steps towards your investing future.